

HELP US KEEP YOUR ENERGY RATES DOWN

Dear Bob:

Recently the Fair Energy Rate Action Fund (FERAF) started running television ads statewide, asking Missouri legislative candidates to sign onto a Ratepayer Bill of Rights.

The Ratepayer Bill of Rights is a series of eleven policy proposals that would help guard Missouri businesses and families against unnecessary utility rate increases. The new television ad and the list of candidates that have taken the pledge can be viewed at www.fairenergyrates.com.

FERAF sent every major party candidate for Missouri House and Senate a questionnaire that asks candidates if they support the Ratepayer Bill of Rights. It focuses on pro-consumer initiatives in three broad areas: improving the rate-making process; strengthening the consumers' role in that rate-making process; and preventing utility companies from levying automatic rate increases on Missourians through surcharges.

This is our movement. Take action by logging onto the FERAF Network, Facebook and Twitter. Or, share this video message with your friends and family today by clicking one of the social networking icons at the top of this email.

Together we can make a difference!

Sincerely,

The FERAF Team
